Starting School

by Shelly Hazard

School starts in Millersville right at the beginning of September. This year, the residents of Forest Street each have a child starting a new grade. The interesting part is that no one on Forest Street is starting in the same grade. Several of the kids have parents that get very excited over a new school year and feel compelled to take pictures of their children on the first day. The kids have finally convinced their parents that going into the school with them on the first day is no longer acceptable, but some of the parents still insist on driving them to school that morning. Determine the full name of each child, the street number for their home, the grade that each is starting, and whether they rode the bus to school or their parents drove them.

1. George didn't live at 26 Forest Street and he didn't start 4th grade. The one whose last name was Branch was starting 5th grade.
2. The two kids who rode the bus to school were the boy who lived at 22 Forest Street and the one who started 5th grade.
3. Mark Sylvester didn't live at 27 Forest Street but his parents drove him to school.
4. George's last name wasn't Minoch. Susan's last name wasn't Branch.
5. The kid who started 7th grade had a last name of Perch. Mark didn't start 4th grade.
6. The kid who lived at 23 Forest Street rode the bus. Emily wasn't starting 6th grade.
