

One of these seven chocolate pieces fits exactly six times in a certain chocolate bar of the rectangle shape. Which of them?

The piece can be rotated and reflected. The dimensions of the final chocolate bar are defined by the selected piece. The chocolate bar must not have any inner holes or cavities in the edges.

The selected piece is the red one consisting of five cells. How it can be arranged in a chocolate bar is shown in the illustration.