

Janet wants to join the three parts above into a bracelet. The jeweler says he has to charge $2 for each link he must cut and resolder. He figures it will cost $6. She figures out a way it will cost $4. How does Janet solve the problem?

Janet tells jeweler to cut both links of one part and attach the remaining two parts together with the two cut links - as shown in the illustration.