

Can the frog catch the fly?

To catch the fly, the frog has to land on the same lily pad as the fly.

The frog and fly can hop from one lily pad to another that is connected to it by a line.

The frog always starts on the big lily pad at the bottom.

The frog has to move first. After the frog moves, the fly will move, and they continue to alternate moves.

At the start of the game, the frog must resist the temptation to chase directly after the fly. Instead the frog should move around the big outside loop.
