

By moving only one glass of water, line up the glasses so that full ones and empty ones alternate.

Empty the 2nd glass from the left into the 2nd glass from the right and then replace the glass to its original position - just as shown in the illustration.