

Classroom Snowflakes

by Shelly Hazard

December, 2005

Print 'n' Play Text
and Table of Results

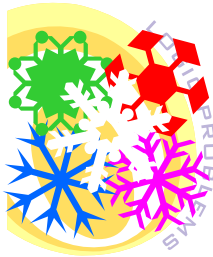

To celebrate the first snowstorm, Lucy's art teacher had them design snowflakes and cut them out using pieces of colored construction paper. When the class was done making them, everyone laid out their finished snowflakes and the class voted on which were the best designs. Determine the full name of the classmates who won the class vote, the color of construction paper each of the winning designs was cut from, and where each design placed.

1. The student who used green construction paper was not Lucy Wish. The first place snowflake wasn't made from red construction paper.
2. The five students who won were, from 5th place to 1st place, Sally, the student whose last name was Grant, the student who used white construction paper, the girl whose snowflake won 2nd place, and the student whose last name was Canary.
3. Walter's last name wasn't Grant and he didn't use blue construction paper. The fifth place winner didn't have a last name of Dudley.
4. Thomas, whose last name wasn't Bradley, didn't use red construction paper. The pink construction paper was not used by a girl.
5. Lucy didn't use the red construction paper. Anna's snowflake placed better than Thomas' but not as good as the snowflake that used blue construction paper.
6. The student whose last name was Canary didn't use the green construction paper.

First Name	Last Name	Paper Color	Winning Place

December, 2005
Print 'n' Play Grid

Classroom Snowflakes

by Shelly Hazard

	Bradley	Canary	Dudley	Grant	Wish	blue	green	pink	red	white	1st	2nd	3rd	4th	5th
Anna
Lucy
Sally
Thomas
Walter 1st
2nd
3rd
4th 5th
blue green pink red white															