The Winter Olympics, held in Canada this year, represented some of the best hockey teams ever assembled under one roof. The audiences, even the teams themselves, were astounded at the level of ability and pure talent that was revealed. Of all the Olympic sports, the ice hockey medals were the most hotly contested, each team battling grimly for that elusive medal of honor. Determine the winning teams, the medal each team won, and each team's mascot.

1. The wolverine was not the mascot for Switzerland. Canada didn't receive a medal. Russia didn't have a wolf for a mascot.
2. Germany won a medal. One of the teams that did not receive a medal had a fox for a mascot.
3. The wolf is not the mascot for the team who won the bronze medal.
4. Switzerland won the silver medal. Norway had a tiger for a mascot.
5. The two teams that didn't receive medals did not have a cat for their mascot.
6. Canada's mascot was not a fox. The team with the lion for a mascot won the gold medal.
